October 15, 2016

You know, the Monroe Congregational Church is a pretty amazing place! When my family decided to make MCC our church home we did so because we believed that the people here are making a difference in the world. Our worship life together, the community we experience, and the ways we are encouraged to grow in our walk with Jesus do not happen by accident. They are planned and prepared by leadership and staff who are deeply committed to our becoming who God is calling us to be.

There are many quiet moments of generosity at MCC that “fly under the radar”, like the time someone heard about a family in crisis and dropped off a hot meal at their home. I have (quite literally) hundreds of those kinds of stories of people helping people. The care you extend to your brothers and sisters in Christ is extraordinary, and it makes me feel quite blessed and inspired to serve at your side.

And then there are other times when a group of passionate people get together to serve. Recently a group of us (me, Joanne Malia, Kate Parker-Burgard, Trees & John Whitbeck) reached out to our neighbors in Newtown who have formed Interfaith Partnership for Refugee Resettlement, gathering 5 faith communities to welcome and help settle a refugee family. It’s been a thrill making some new friends and getting involved. If you’d like to join us as a volunteer, please let us know.

As individuals and as a church, fall seems to be a time for discernment about many things. I’d like to invite you to consider investing financially in your congregation in a regular way during the next calendar year with a pledge to our fall Stewardship campaign. The decision to give regularly is a choice, and to do so may mean to choose not to do something else like not buying a fancy coffee, or deciding to carry a sack lunch into the office once a week instead of buying lunch. And yet, even with a little sacrifice there is joy to be found in practicing generosity, beginning with a commitment to contribute your time, talent and treasure.

Your gifts matter – It matters to you as the giver, and to the church community that utilizes it as a resource for mission. You’ll hear more about that in the days ahead. For now, I just want to thank you for making the Monroe Congregational Church your faith home. I am so glad to share this path of discipleship with you as together we seek to be a movement for wholeness in a fragmented world.

In peace, Pastor Jenn

Go and Do the Same

Like many people currently in the UCC, I was raised a Roman Catholic. In the area where I grew up the local Catholic parish would assume that everyone in the geographical area was a member of their flock, unless otherwise informed. This made things pretty convenient for young families as there was no “church shopping” that had to be done and membership was pretty much automatic based on where one lived.

The other thing we didn’t have to think too much about was how much to contribute financially to the church. You see they had a formula for this which was something like “here is where you live, you have this many people in your family, and this is what your contribution will be”. (I do not know if it is still done this way.) Imagine my confusion and surprise when I joined the UCC as a young adult and first encountered the concept of “pledging”. I determine the financial contribution and the Tithe is just a suggestion. No formula, no “bill”, nothing.

I was bewildered! I had no clue! And in typical New England, Yankee, Congregationalist form no one would openly have this conversation. Sure we had pot lucks, and home visits, we even had “The Pony Express” to gather up folks pledge cards, but I just didn’t get it.

One of the wonderful things about my home congregation was that my Kindergarten teacher, Nancy Brennan, was a long time member and an awesome lady. We sang in the choir together and it was so nice for me to have her there. During one of the church’s Stewardship Campaigns they started to have speakers talk about their personal faith journey with respect to financial giving to the church and she was one of the speakers. I remember what she said, clear as day, as if she said it yesterday; “My father told me that if out of every pay check I put 10% toward the church and 2% toward savings that God would take care of the rest. He was right and I’ve never had to worry about a thing.” The light went on for me! I realized that I had to give to God first and I have done this ever since – about 25 years now.

Now I am not going to tell you that there haven’t been times when I’ve had some sweating going on where finances are concerned, but with the faith that God will take care of me things always seem to work out. With Nancy Brennan as my “Go and Do the Same” example things have worked out pretty well for me. As we enter our time of Stewardship and Commitment here at MCC I ask you if you have a “Go and Do the Same” person.

Who is your example?

Blessings to you all,

Debi M-K

Christian Education

Bring Your Bible to Church Sunday! On Sunday, October 23rd, our 3rd Grade Sunday school students will be receiving their Bibles, and we are asking for folks to bring your Bible to church. Whether it is a family Bible or a Bible that you were given by your church when you were a child (or adult), or maybe in another language, bring it along with you. Let's celebrate this day together!

"People Helping People" All-Church Day of Service

One thing I would like to tell you about myself is that I am very passionate about the Church being "One Body". What I mean by that is that I believe the more we do together, across the generations, the more vibrant and alive we become. The more we learn from each other and the more we are in relationship and covenant with each other. On Sunday, October 30th we will be having a special service day together.

On the People Helping People Service Day, worship will be abbreviated to 45 minutes, so that we can assemble and work together on the following service projects:

- Making Christmas Cards for the children living at Casa Hogar: The people of Oaxaca (pronounced Wa-Ha-Ka) inspired the creation of Simply Smiles when its founder, Bryan Nurnberger, first volunteered at the Casa Hogar Children's Home in 2003. Making Christmas cards for the children living there is one way MCC can keep our connection with them and bring some smiles to their faces!
- Decorating Pieces of Ben's Bells: The mission of Ben's Bells is to inspire, educate, and motivate each other to realize the impact of intentional kindness and to empower individuals to act according to that awareness, thereby strengthening ourselves, our relationships and our communities. Ben's Bells are beautiful, handmade ceramic wind chimes. By the time one Ben's Bell is complete, at least 10 people have been involved in its creation. Ben's Bells are hung randomly throughout the community, in public spaces, for people to find and take home as a reminder to practice intentional kindness.
- Making and Decorating Birdhouses for Habitat for Humanity: At the Habitat ReStore facility, gently used furniture and surplus building supplies are sold to benefit Habitat's projects throughout Bridgeport. We'll make Birdhouses and give them to Habitat to sell at the ReStore shop.
- Winterizing the Giving Garden: We celebrate all the sustainable, organic produce that was grown this summer, but it is now time to prepare the beds for winter. Come ready to get your hands dirty and help us turn the soil to prepare for next year's growing season.

I hope you will join us for this exciting day of fellowship and service. Blessings and peace to you,
Debi Mastroni-Kenyon
